CAREER OBJECTIVE

I'm Miracle Omoyowho, a passionate and curious tech enthusiast focused on Data Science, Analytics, Data Engineering, and Cloud Computing.

I love turning raw data into clear, decision driving insights and building smart solutions that solve real-world problems. My journey started with learning how to clean and visualize data, and has grown into designing cloud infrastructure, automating data pipelines, and deploying intelligent applications.

I enjoy learning by doing — from scraping websites with Python and BeautifulSoup, to setting up AWS infrastructure with Terraform, to building inventory management systems using Power Apps and SharePoint.

Currently, I'm sharpening my skills and exploring new tools, building projects, and collaborating with others who are equally interested in data and innovative solutions.
